REVIEWS: Planning Your Writing

Name _____

Directions: A good reviewer must know a lot about fine and popular art forms. The writer not only tells the reader about a current movie or program but also educates the reader about the arts. Use this planning sheet to prepare your review of a movie or television program.

1. Name of movie or program.
2. Names of actors and directors involved in the production.
3. List technical words that must be explained in the reviews.
4. List phrases you might use to describe an actor's performance.
5. Briefly describe your reaction to the movie or program.
6. Write your review on a separate piece of paper.
